

FAYE

Ah, yes. I've seen that book in your office at the church. "When Two Become One." You give it to engaged couples? I've wondered about it. It seems to me when two become one, you lose somebody. I think we lost me.

ROBERT

Faye, what are you talking about?

FAYE

I lost me somewhere, Robert. I lost that wild child, the one who snuck out at night to run barefoot along the creek under the moon. The one who wanted to live in a tree.
